

Sojin Security Special

Heavy armor for the security specialist

Sojin Security Special is the standard security armor for all Sojin Security personnel. The Sojin Security Special (3S) is a full body armor suit with detachable helmet. The outside of the armor has a wide array of pouches, holsters, and satchels that can be customized by the individual guard.

The helmet has a capacity of 5 for audio visual enhancements and has a built in encrypted comlink (5) for all communications the team may need to make. This comlink automatically attaches to the Sojin PAN for the area worked, notifying all units of any situation.

-This helmet is a good one for a corp security guard, not a runner. The Comlink is integrated into the armor and can't be removed without affecting the helmets integrity. Be careful if you get this one chummers. -Pison the Red.

-You only need a really good decker to fix the comlink and disable the tracking on the helmet. It will cost you some time and probably Y, but if you want a strong armor it could be worth it.
-Yacco

Some of the options for the helmet are: Low Light Vision, Thermographic Vision, Trodes, Smart Link, Sound dampener, Flash suppressor, and sound enhancers to name a few. All variants of these enhancements will work in this versatile helmet.

All 3S suits have Chemseal, Fire resistance, and Non Conductivity built in. The suits also have an option for a built in retractable Riot Shield that has 8 charges for the shock strips. If the shield option is not taken, the suit comes with combat shock gloves that have 8 charges.

Item	Armor Rating	Availability	Cost
3S Armor	13	14R	4,000
Helmet	+3	+4	500
Riot Shield	+4	+4	1,000
Combat Shock Gloves	-----	10R	350
Chemseal	-----	+6	3,500

Suit 1: 3S with Riot Shield Total cost 6,500 if purchased all together. (Separate cost 9,500)

Suit 2: 3S with Shock Gloves total cost 6,000 if purchased all together. (Separate cost 9,000)

-A little spendy for my taste. I prefer to have armor that I can move easily in and that doesn't cost me the amount of money I make on a run. -Cheaper than Dirt
